VON HINDENBURG MAKES NEW GAINS IN SWEEP TO RIGA

Berlin Also Reports the Repulse of Strong Russian Attacks at Dvinsk.

RETAKE LOST TRENCHES

Counter Attack at Sienikowce Successful and 2,600 Russian Prisoners Taken.

BERLIN, Nov. 2 (via London).—The German advance on Riga from the west has made further progress. The War Office announced today in the following report:

"Army group of Field Marshal von Hindenburg: South of the Tukums Railway our attack made further progress on both sides of the river. "Before Dvinsk fierce fighting continued yesterday. Strong Russian attacks were repulsed with severe losses. The battles between Swenon and Ilsen Lakes are still proceeding.

Five hundred prisoners fell into our hands. "Army group of Prince Leopold: The Russians attempted to halt our advance west of Caesarsburg by a counter-attack on a wide front with dense masses of troops. They were driven back with heavy losses. Our attack continues. "At Bialowieza the Russians succeeded in temporarily penetrating positions held by the troops of Gen. von Huttemer. We recaptured our trenches by a counter-attack and took more than 600 prisoners. The village of Bialowieza itself was for the greater part recaptured by storm early this morning, after bitter fighting during the night, and 2,600 more prisoners were taken. "PETROGRAD (via London), Nov. 2.—The communication issued by the War Office last night follows: "North of Lake Kanger, which lies northwest of Sialok, the Germans made a fruitless effort to advance. "During one engagement Monday on the Riga front young Latvian detachments showed valor in their baptism of fire. "On the front in the region of Jacobstadt the artillery and rifle fire is more vigorous. On the front in the region of Dvinsk and southward Russian duels continue. In the region of Garbunovka the Germans attempted to assume the offensive. Further south to the Pripiet River there is nothing new. "The night of Oct. 30 the enemy passed to the offensive in the region of Gontalskova, northwest of Czarystoy. At the same time a hot fight was being engaged in further south in the region of Rudnia. Our riflemen repulsed all attacks, which were marked with great stubbornness and determination. On our part we counter-attacked, capturing seven officers and 400 Austrian soldiers. "In the region west of Komarow by bayonet attack we ejected the enemy from trenches which for a long time had been disputed by both sides.

VON BERNSTORFF VISITS SECRETARY LANSING

Formal Negotiations as to the Lusitania and Arabic Cases Is Delayed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—German Ambassador von Bernstorff visited Secretary of State Lansing today and conferred with him for twenty minutes. It was learned that while Mr. Lansing and the German Ambassador discussed the situation regarding the Arabic and Lusitania cases, formal negotiations will probably not begin for several days. Mr. Lansing informed the Ambassador that the Arabic claims are not quite ready for presentation and discussion. The navy experts report on the torpedoing of the liner Lusitania was handed to the Ambassador. It will be sent to the German Admiralty for its information.

Where is the great German fleet upon which so much money was spent? Locked up in the Baltic. It dare not show its face in waters where it can be destroyed. The whole maritime resources of Germany have been reduced to sporadic and constantly diminishing efforts of submarines. Several times the Prime Minister referred to the charges of the Government's critics. "Let me remark," he said, "that I am not here to apologize for a Government which to the best of its ability has controlled operations with the confidence of the great mass of the country. "Of differences of opinion which he admitted had existed in the Cabinet concerning the question of compulsory military service, Asquith said: "In my opinion it is a question purely of practical expediency. I do not rule out compulsion but I hold it should be resorted to only by something in the nature of general consent. I will not shift the burden of office from my own shoulders," said the Premier, "until I am satisfied I can no longer bear it."

The announcement was made by Premier Asquith that former Premier Venizelos of Greece, whose advocacy of intervention in the war on the side of the entente allies led to his resignation, asked France and Great Britain on Sept. 21 for 100,000 men, with the express understanding that Greece would mobilize.

Speaking further of the operations in the Dardanelles, for the launching of which Winston Spencer Churchill, then First Lord of the Admiralty, was attacked so strongly in many quarters, Mr. Asquith said: "The proposed attack was carefully considered. It was approved by the French and enthusiastically received by the Grand Duke. To matter came again before the war council. Before a shot was fired it was communicated to the Cabinet. It was decided at first to make the attempt with the navy, and the navy alone. I take my full share of responsibility, and deprecate attempts to allot the responsibility to one minister or another."

"The Kaiser reportedly remarked that even the Kaiser could not intervene, coupled with the world-wide outcry.

combination of Germany, Austria and Bulgaria," said the Premier.

Then, passing with a brief reference to the fact that Gen. Joffre has just been in London on an important mission, Premier Asquith added: "There is a complete agreement between the allies as to the ends to be pursued in the Balkans. That means that Serbia may be assured that her independence is regarded as an essential object by her larger allies."

The Germans have not gained a foot of ground in France and Flanders since April, Premier Asquith declared. He admitted that British casualties in France and Flanders total 27,000. The Prime Minister then turned to the recruiting situation.

"During the fifteen months since the war was inaugurated there has been recruited for army purposes an unprecedented number of men," he said. "Canada has contributed 25,000, Australia 22,000, New Zealand 20,000, South Africa 15,000, Newfoundland 1,500 and the West Indies 2,000."

PREMIER TAKES A WHACK AT PROFESSIONAL WHIMPERERS.

Mr. Asquith referred to the "small coterie of professional whimperers which kept our enemies supplied daily with a diet of falsehoods." The Government, he said, had no interest in concealing anything, subject to the one overriding consideration that its disclosures would not assist direct or indirect enemies.

"How do we stand to-day?" asked the Premier. "In August of last year we were prepared to send abroad six infantry and one cavalry divisions. In the operations described by Field Marshal French in his last despatch, he had under his command not far short of a million men. To these must be added the troops at the Dardanelles, in Egypt and in other theatres of war, as well as our garrisons and troops in reserve."

Turning to the work of the navy in transporting troops, the Premier said 2,500,000 officers and men had been carried, and that 2,500,000 tons of supplies and 8,000 horses and mules.

"Up to the present," he added, "the loss of life in the whole of these gigantic overseas operations has been considerably less than one-tenth of 1 per cent. There never has been any desertion in history. The whole service of the navy. There they are—the men of the grand fleet, living unnoticed, unadvised—performing with efficiency and vigilance which can be described, but which has cleared the whole high seas, from one end to the other of German warships and mercantile marine."

WANTS CHANCE TO PROVE EUROPE DESIRES PEACE

London-Paris Doctor, Arriving on the Rochambeau, Has Important Letters From Diplomats.

Dr. A. A. Warden, an Englishman, who has long made his home in Paris, arrived on the French liner Rochambeau today on what he describes as an unofficial peace mission.

"I have," said he, "correspondence with the diplomats of all the warring countries except Russia. From their letters I learn that every country at war would be glad to welcome peace now, but not one of them dares to say so openly for fear that the enemy may take it as an admission of weakness."

"I am going to try to publish those letters here. I have offered them to editors in England and France but they have refused to print them. I am sure they will be published here. The United States is the one country from whose efforts peace can come."

150,000 ITALIANS LOST IN TWO WEEKS, REPORTS VIENNA

Casualties of the Invaders Estimated at One-Half of the Attacking Force.

OFFENSIVE IS CHECKED.

Success of Austrian Arms Along the Entire Battle Front Is Claimed.

VIENNA (via London) Nov. 2.—"After a two weeks' battle we have won," announced the War Office today, reporting on the final result of the Italian offensive against the Austrian's Isonzo line. The Italians were declared to have lost 150,000 men out of a total of 200,000 during the last half of October.

"The Italians' attacks on the coastal front were said also to be subsiding and the Tyrol and Carnic positions were declared to be still strongly defended by the Austrians. Following is the text of the War Office report: "The third Italian attack against our coastal front, which began on Oct. 18 and was renewed with fresh troops on Oct. 28, begins to fail. "The enemy advanced on Sunday against the northern edge of the lofty Dobardo Plateau with strong forces, which, however, were weak at several points. The attack was in vain and no longer general.

"Though the battle may again flame up, the attempted offensive on the main front, with at least twenty-five infantry divisions (200,000 men), which the Italian commander announced with brave words, has collapsed on the unshakable wall of our victorious troops.

"On the Isonzo front the battle of a fortnight's duration represents a gain for our arms. Our front throughout is unchanged. Likewise the defenders of the Tyrol and Carinthian fronts retained firmly the positions they have heroically held since the beginning of the war.

"Through these successes our army has proved again how idle and untenable are all the claims of our erstwhile ally to the southwest frontier territory which he thought he was able to conquer by a treacherous attack in the rear.

"In the battles of the second half of October the enemy lost at least 150,000 more men."

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE AGAIN REPORTED DEAD

This Time the Rumor Is Credited, in 'Roundabout Way, to Papal Diplomat.

TURIN, Nov. 2.—Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany is dead, according to a Rome despatch to the Gazzetta del Popolo, whose correspondent asserts it was informed by a diplomat accredited to the Vatican that the news had been received by the Secretary of State in a cipher message from the Papal Nuncio at Vienna, Monsignor Scapinelli.

The diplomat is said to have refused further details, but to have assured the correspondent the news was authentic.

The last report of the death of the Crown Prince came in March, although prior to that time he had frequently been reported killed. It was stated in September that he had broken down as the result of the strain of the news of the death of the Argonne by the troops under his command.
